

A black and white photograph of a recording studio. The scene is filled with several grand pianos arranged in a semi-circle. In the foreground, two pianists are seated at their instruments, their hands on the keys. In the background, a drummer is visible behind a drum set. The room is lit with large, soft lamps, creating a moody atmosphere. The overall composition is dynamic and captures a moment of musical collaboration.

Alberto Iglesias
Instantánea

Juan Pérez Floristán, piano
Mario Marzo, piano
Ángel Crespo, drums